Presents

Trade Aid

Low karma? No drama. Redress the balance at Trade Aid - a series of special benefit nights at Comedy @ Trades, hosted and performed by festival artists and devoted to raising funds for charitable groups working hard in the community.

The scientific evidence gathered over the course of 2007's Trade Aid shows The Wrong Night, Birdhouse and Dave & Otto's Rock Shop, was conclusive - charity performances lighten the hearts, lift the spirits and tickle the fancies of their audiences.

This year's benefits include:

23 Positions In A One-Night Stand

The Asylum Seeker's Resource Centre musical jamboree returns! This year, pack your dancin' shoes, 'cos Scott Edgar, Casey Bennetto and guests are dressed in purple and ready 2 drop some freaky Minneapolis funk 4 the greater glory of Prince Rogers Nelson. Performers from all over the Festival will offer their own interpretations of Revolution classics and New Power Generation jams, and it's on Saturday night, we guess that makes it alright, so: baby, have U got enough gas? Oh yes!
