Alison Bice in My Terrible, Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Life

Alison Bice was the only girl in Grade 2 with a k.d. lang lunchbox. After ending up in a London hospital with heat rash, falling in love with a boy who lives on the other side of the world AND has a girlfriend, sharing a room with a victim of severe flatulence and growing up with a mother who replaces family pets with pot plants, Alison has ditched therapy and written a show about the tragedy that is her life.

Combining her unique storytelling style and black, pithy stand-up, Alison Bice returns direct from Edinburgh with her new show. Following on from the critical success of her 2008 Melbourne Comedy Festival Show, Celia Pacquola in Hating Alison Bice... this show will let you know how truly wicked life can be when it falls into the wrong hands.

2007 Moosehead Award – The Wizard of Bice

"...an extremely talented young comedian" The Groggy Squirrel

"Deadpan, absurd and black." The Age

"Alison Bice is a promising oddity." The Age
