The Skirt Network and Jeez Louise

Present

Keep Your Skirt On!

Anxious to see the brightest up and coming stars of the local comedy scene? Want to try some previews to know what to see?

The Skirt Network IS holding a one off special event to celebrate ladies in comedy. You're invited to watch some of the best up and coming female comics present previews from their Melbourne International Comedy Festival shows. It's a delectable sampler plate of funny women, hosted by the always dashing and hilarious Oliver Clark, not a lady, but a lady lover.

The Skirt Network is the brainchild of Celia Pacquola and Louise Sanz. The aim is to develop a social network for female stand-ups, writers, sketch performers, musicians, producers and directors involved in the Melbourne comedy scene, or perhaps wanting to get involved.

Jeez Louise is the Comedy Festival's annual weekend chat-fest of forums, panels, workshops, networking and performances for anyone who's interested in women in comedy. Keep Your Skirt On will be showcasing some of the best performers from the Jeez Louise weekend, which comes immediately beforehand.

This year The Skirt Network and Jeez Louise are promoting some of the newest and best in the comedy scene.

"The Skirt Network is the best thing for knowledge, ideas and connectedness since the invention of the internet. And Jeez Louise: it's the energy drink of the female comic. It peps you up and sends you out on the field to play even stronger."
