

MIND-READING

Jeremy Meadow for Something For The Weekend Ltd

Presents

Philip Escoffey: Six Impossible Things Before Dinner (UK)

Mind-reading. It's just not possible, is it?

Maverick showman PHILIP ESCOFFEY will challenge what you fundamentally believe to be true. Although he's never met you, this stranger knows you better than you know yourself.

What interests Philip is not whether people can read minds or not (as luck would have it, it seems he can), but what the rational mind does in the face of an irrefutable demonstration. He makes you challenge one huge thing: what you genuinely believe is possible.

Philip has spent ten years traveling the world, leaving the rich and royal intrigued (and occasionally embarrassingly clingy). Now for the first time in Australia, after selling-out to rave reviews at the Edinburgh Festival, mind reading's wittiest enfant terrible presents his astonishing findings.

Meanwhile which of the following are true..?

No two snowflakes are the same. If you cut an earthworm in half, both ends live. Lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Unopened mussels are bad for you. You use less than 10% of your brain. If you swim straight after a meal, you'll get a stitch.

If you believe ANY of these statements... this show is for you! And if you don't... IT'S A MUST!

"A singularly gifted entertainer, a master of the unexplained" The Scotsman

"★★★★ Simply staggering, for believers and sceptics alike" chortle.co.uk
