Yianni in "Comelody"

Stand up comedy = One man plus microphone.

Comelody = One man plus microphone, images, music, sound effects and stories.

From its wordless Chaplinesque opening scene using nothing but ragtime, sound effects and physicality through to its urban hip-hop inspired climax, COMELODY explores different ways of using sound and music to produce humour.

Stories include Yianni foiling a mugging using only his wits, crying in the arms of a stripper, having a stranger serenade a relationship breakup and Yianni's potential career as a priest in a small Cypriot village.

A cross between a movie, a cartoon and a stand up show, Comelody is an immersive storytelling experience.

Yianni (The World Stands Up – Comedy Channel, Take the Mike – ITV(UK)) returns home from London to follow up last year's sellout show with this ambitious homage to sound and laughter.

An eclectic music mix includes Bach, The Beatles, Beethoven, C&C Music Factory, Chicane, The Cure, Doves, Greig, Hendrix, Joplin, Lavigne, Marley, Presets, Public Enemy, Snoop Dogg, Sigur Ros and Sting amongst others. Plus sound effects too numerous to mention.

It's comedy with melodies. It's COMELODY.

"★★★★ A magical hour of heartfelt, vulnerable comedy" Chortle (UK)
"Plenty of laughs" The Age
